dated February 12, 2016

REGULATION
on a special trademark of circulation of medical products in the market of the Eurasian Economic Union

1. This Regulation is developed in accordance with paragraph 2 of Article 31 of the Treaty on the Eurasian Economic Union dated May 29, 2014, paragraph 4 of Article 7 of the Agreement on Common Principles and Rules for Circulation of Medical Products (Medical Devices and Medical Equipment) within the Eurasian Economic Union dated December 23, 2014 and establish the procedure for use of a special trademark of circulation of medical products in the market of the Eurasian Economic Union (hereinafter, respectively, – special trademark of circulation, medical product, the Union).

2. A special trademark of circulation indicates that the medical product marked with it, passed the procedure for registration and confirmation of compliance with the general requirements for safety and efficacy of medical products and requirements for the introduction and maintenance of a quality management system for medical products established within the Union.

3. The abbreviation EAC means the Eurasian Conformity.

4. Marking of a medical product with a special trademark of circulation is made by the manufacturer of this medical product or his authorized representative.

5. Marking with a special trademark of circulation is made before the release of the medical product into circulation within the Union.

I. Description of the image of a special trademark of circulation of medical products in the market
of the Eurasian Economic Union

The image of a special trademark of circulation of medical products in the market of the Eurasian Economic Union (hereinafter referred to as the special trademark of circulation) is a contour of a square with the abbreviation EAC inscribed in it, centered on the vertical axis of symmetry, which is formed by a combination of three stylized letters of the Latin alphabet “E”, “A” and “C”, graphically executed with the use of right angles, having the same height and width, and repeats the exact proportions of the square on the light (Figure 1) or contrast (Figure 2) background.

The image of the special trademark of circulation must be monochrome and contrast with the color of the surface on which it is applied.

The width of the line of the elements of the abbreviation “EAC” is equal to the width of the line of the contour of the square.

In the lower part, the contour opens; the inscription “MED” is inscribed on the opening, which is the abbreviation of the word “medical”. The inscription consists of three letters of the Latin alphabet “M”, “E”, “D”, centered along the vertical axis of symmetry. The width of the line of the elements of the inscription “MED” is 1/2 of the width of the contour of the square. The horizontal axis of symmetry of the inscription “MED” coincides with the horizontal axis of symmetry of the width of the lower contour of the square.

II. Dimensions and proportions of the special trademark of circulation

Main proportions of the special trademark of circulation on the scale grid: vertical size $H - 30a$, the horizontal size $B - 28a$, where “ a ” is the size-forming module.

Dimensions of the special trademark of circulation when scaling are determined by the proportional change in H and B values.

The minimum allowable size B is 6 mm.
